

Michael Vinluan, MD, JD, FCLM

President-Elect, American College of Legal Medicine

Dr. Vinluan works as a medical-legal consultant and consulting medical expert for various plaintiff and defense law firms throughout the U.S. He has provided consulting on various complex multimillion-dollar litigation matters, ranging from medical malpractice and medical product liability to wrongful death cases, and has worked on some of the recent biggest multidistrict litigations cases.

He is an author of several textbook chapters on medical malpractice, product liability, and medical ethics. With a JD and Health Law Certificate from the University of Maryland Carey School of Law, his experience also includes pragmatic research and writing on emerging healthcare issues for policy development, both at hospital and national levels.

His extensive dynamic background includes work experience at CDC, FDA, and Johns Hopkins Medicine. He was the Chair of the 2023 ACLM 63rd Annual Conference in Orlando, Florida, held in association with the University of Florida Levin College of Law and the Australasian College of Legal Medicine.
